FEA SCHOLARSHIPS

The Fund for Education Abroad (FEA) increases opportunities for dedicated American undergraduates to study abroad by reducing financial restrictions through the provision of scholarships. Applicants may participate on any study abroad program of four weeks or more (in country) that conveys academic credit toward degree completion. FEA aims to increase and diversify the population of U.S. students studying abroad. All students are encouraged to apply, with preference given to students underrepresented in study abroad, and students destined for non-traditional locations.
